

CT Humanities Impact

For the past 2 and a half years, CT Humanities has been stewarding the cultural sector through the pandemic with our grants, digital resources, and professional development programs. This has provided a lifeline to hundreds of cultural organizations - keeping doors open and people employed. We have also provided critical resources and experiences to educators and students in our communities as they transitioned to at home and hybrid classrooms.

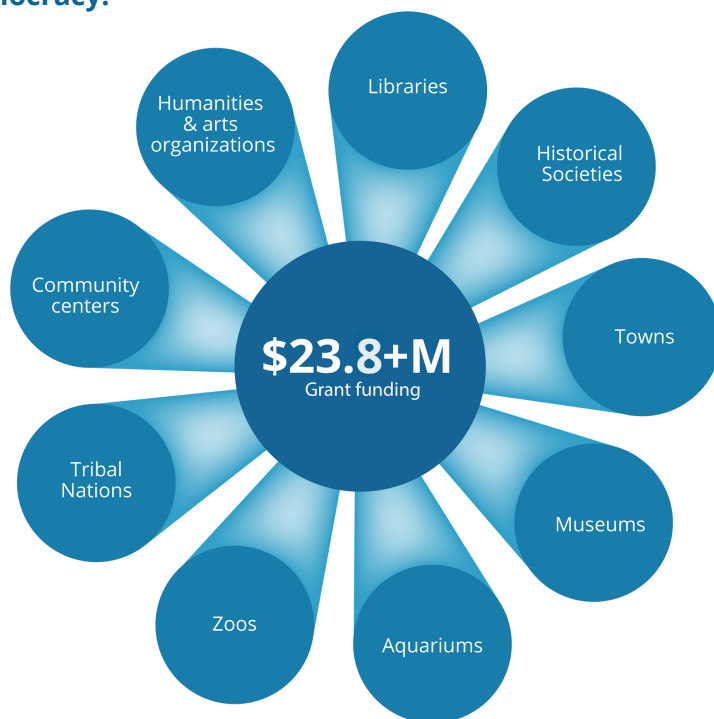

Museums and cultural institutions are anchors in our communities. It is vital that they continue to exist. Public support like the CT Humanities Fund and the CT Cultural Fund provide funding so they may grow and transform to meet the needs of the people they serve in these challenging times and beyond.

Makhi Ettienne-Modeste was officially sworn in as the 2022 Kid Governor in January 2022.

It is critical that our state ensure all people can access the power of the humanities, arts, and culture to transform and enrich their lives and be empowered participants in our democracy.
